

Why am I at this U.S. Marshals transit facility in Oklahoma since 8/26? It is 8/30 as I send this out. It does not help that Frank's vacation continues while I am thrown around like this, let alone his vacation starting the day before I went to CCA in Ohio.

What the hell does this court have left to do to me? Every piece of paper allegedly produced all year is supposed to be done before a guilty conviction is accepted. I have not physically seen one piece of paper produced all year. Then what a waste 2024 has been. "Waiving" was an option back in January. I have had the last straw with these arrogant suggestions that a 2.5 year old email dispute between myself and a stranger means I need medication. No I don't. I have a legal right to refuse that garbage for a reason. Again, I am at a U.S. Marshals transit facility, not one of the B.O.P. facilities this court has absolutely no authority whatsoever to place an unsentenced defendant into, you people have ignorantly been suggesting be done with me since April. Staff members at CCA confirmed with me nobody goes into B.O.P. custody without a sentence. Once a sentence is issued, fuck the court's arbitrary paperwork concerns. The B.O.P. doesn't even listen to lawyers' suggestions concerning which First Step Act classes the lawyer thinks their client should take. I guess I'm not the only one these days dealing with an ignorant court. You cannot be more than 500 miles from home at any B.O.P. facility. This is such a commonly known fact with these people. Nope since April this court has been acting above the law, on top of wasting your own time producing illegitimate paperwork you are supposed to produce before a guilty conviction is accepted.

Public defenders are coworkers with prosecutors, not opponents. I am not falling for anymore shit. This U.S. Marshals move over to Oklahoma offended enough people in my world where now we really have enough help available to change counsel if this shady behavior and the rude treatment I've dealt with all year continues. I am past the legitimate 9 month maximum sentencing guideline and it just makes Frank and Fonda and even the prosecutor who yelled at me to my face in December like nobody else ever did look bad professionally speaking. On all the sudden during this violation I'm "incompetent", then I guess the guilty plea from Oct. 2023 isn't valid. I guess I'm not competent enough to remember signing anything in court. Are Frank and Fonda out there bragging at the lawyer yacht parties about how they have a defendant 2 months past the normal sentencing guidelines maximum over a letter allegedly sent out of a jail I haven't been at in 8+ months? Is this prosecutor out there trying to help other prosecutors get defendants illegally placed into B.O.P. facilities unsentenced and more than 500 miles from their homes at that?

Federal probation was created in 1927 as a more liberating option to incarceration. Now it's just abused as a way for courts to jam people back into jail before Christmas so courts can cover up their own errors finishing paperwork they are legally required to complete before a guilty conviction is accepted. Matt Zenger has been face to face with me in my own home twice. He is a false witness if he's going to park his ass in court on July 30th and claim "probation has concerns". STFU. I am competent enough to remember hearing that you don't have to let probation into your house. If he wants to go back into my house then he can replace my furnace for starts. I'll tell him what to do in my own home, not vice versa.

This irregular relocation over to a U.S. Marshals transit facility in Oklahoma means it is time to stop bitching about Orleans County Jail, Sanford Church, and/or Katie [REDACTED]. It's time to start bitching about this court in writing. How many times do I have to mention Counterman v. Colorado 600 U.S. 66? Listen to my phone calls at this place and you will hear who out in California I learned about before I got on the overrated Fed Jet, "Ooh look at the clouds" say all the rap music enthusiasts facing life. I've been on a plane first class as a normal person before. Free envelopes and paper all over the place here. Should I complain to Vilardo and Arcera next? Will I be relocated to a U.S. Marshals transit facility in Guam before Fonda takes a 2 week vacation next? FTS, - Luke Wenke (Waiving goodbye for now)
